

What's New in Funambol v6.5?

November, 2007

Data Synchronization Server

- Improved TCP/IP "Push" capability now reaches across all mobile operator networks
- Framework for integration with external mail system "Push" mechanism
- Framework for integration with external PIM system for "Push"
- Enhanced time zone (UTC) conversion handling
- Contact photo synchronization
- Compliance with dozens of more phones using additional synclets
- High availability framework for all Funambol server components including load balancing, no single point of failure, automatic load redistribution (Carrier Edition only)
- Management tools for monitoring health and load of the system (Carrier Edition only)

Funambol Portal (Carrier Edition only)

- New signup and user activation process with improved user experience
- New and improved profile page
- Added GoogleMap link if the city or ZIP is defined
- Automatic country selection in signup process
- Updated UI for edit/view events and contacts
- Added support for MD5 authentication
- Added better support for UTC devices
- Added support for more than 800 devices

Inbox listener

- New architecture for high availability and scalability

Email Connector

- Added support for Google Apps
- Improved HTML to text conversion

CTP Server (New!)

- New component to support client-side TCP/IP push

Phones Support Module aka Phone-pack

- Many synclets to better support many more phones

Windows Mobile plug-in

- Client-side TCP/IP push (CTP)
- UI improvements
- Contact photos are now synchronized
- Auto-detection of language (English & German supported)

Outlook plug-in

- Contact photos are now synchronized

Java ME Email Client

- Addition of 150 new supported phones (all Motorola, Nokia and Sony Ericsson phones meeting minimum requirements of MIDP 2.0, WMA 1.1, heap size of at least 800Kb, and max download size of at least 250Kb)
- T9 search in address book
- Shortcut (0) to delete messages
- Ability to call the sender of a message from the message view
- New settings for the user:
 - Auto-connect at startup
 - Disable sound/vibration
- New device-specific help